Product Description

Inspired by cultures where the ability to carry things on one's head is a necessity, this Balancing Egg is unique in combining a lot of fun with awareness of posture and development of balancing skills. The base of the egg is a soft rubber ring that adapts to the head of each child. The skill now is to build your egg, piece by piece, on the base. Younger children can start by balancing one or two pieces of the egg. To challenge those who have perfected the skill (not an easy task), place some items inside the egg or challenge your little Eggheads to a race! The Balancing Egg is designed to withstand constant use by children.
