Product Description

Clip this pair of big, silly googly eyes onto a finger for an instant hand puppet.

An instant hand puppet! This pair of large, bulbous googly eyes are connected by a stretchy clip that slides securely and comfortably on to a finger.

Once mounted, they give instant personality to anyone's hand, with further comical characterisation provided by changing the position of fingers or making a fist.

At a great value price point and able to satisfy all senses of humour, we think this an essential impulse line.
