Product Description

The elastic hammock is a versatile and extremely popular piece of equipment used in sensory integration therapy. Made of a special stretchable material, it allows a variety of positions and movements - both linear and rotational - to stimulate the vestibular system, deep sensation and sense of touch. The single-strap design allows the body to be wrapped around it, providing a sense of security and tranquility. Ideal for children who require stimulus regulation and support for coordination and balance development.

- enables vestibular stimulation through vortex and linear movements
- supports the development of balance, motor coordination and spatial orientation
- provides intensive stimulation of deep sensation (proprioception)
- also stimulates the sense of touch thanks to the elastic material
- enables exercise in various positions: cross-legged sit, straight sit, lying on back and stomach
- construction allows you to wrap your child, creating a safe, calming space
- helps regulate stimuli and reduce hyperactivity
- provides a sense of privacy and separation from the environment, which facilitates concentration and relaxation
