Product Description

A triangular pencil grip in a variety of bright colours.

The 3 sided design is to provide a physical cue to promote a tripod grasp by giving each finger a designated spot.

Classic Triangle Grips are teaching the proper writing grip.

These triangle grips have been a standard in elementary school classrooms for years teaching kids the correct way to hold a pencil.

Simple and efficient in design, these pencil grips have endured because they work.

Made from high-quality plastic in bright colors, these pencil and pen grips are popular with children and adults alike.

Additional Information

1. There is more to correcting a pencil grasp than just putting a pencil grip on a pencil. The child also needs to develop strength in all the right places. This means building a stable support by working on core strength, shoulder, elbow, and wrist stability.
2. The child needs to assume a proper seating position, this means no dangling feet from kitchen chairs. If the feet are not flat on the floor then the child is not stable and balanced, this will have a negative effect on hand writing that no pencil grip will fix.
3. Remember that the pencil grip isn't glued to the child's fingers in the correct position. So it needs to be monitored or the child can start compensating around the pencil grip as well.
4. If the child is struggling to isolate their little finger and ring finger, give them something small to hold in these fingers. This will keep the little finger and ring finger tucked out of the way.
